ABOUT

I've been learning frontend for a year and a half. Before this, I tried many other programming languages, but I stopped on JavaScript. I want to work in a team to further develop in this direction. I have an pre-intermediate level of English (I can read documentation easily without a dictionary, understand spoken English well, but speak it weakly). I only have experience with my own projects and adding features to other open-source projects on GitHub. Every day, I try to improve my spoken English and in JavaScript by reading documentation and solving problems on HackerRank/LeetCode.
